

Former COO at Booth Radiology joins Gibraltar Construction

Gibraltar Construction Corporation (GCC), of Gibbstown and Phoenixville, Pa., a leader in commercial construction and specialist in dental offices, medical imaging facilities and ambulatory surgical centers, has hired Ralph Travis to lead the company's Medical Imaging Division. As director of Medical Imaging, he will use his more than 30 years of industry expertise to further expand the firm's client base and product line.

For the past 15 years, Travis worked at Booth Radiology Associates in Woodbury, New Jersey and spent the last eight years as the Chief Operating Officer, in which he was responsible for all aspects of the company's operations.

During his distinguished career, Travis was the director of Medical Imaging for both S.J. Hospital Systems in Bridgeton, and Kennedy Health Systems in Turnersville. He has also held positions with Temple University Hospital in Philadelphia, Kessler Memorial Hospital in Hammonton and Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach, Fla.

Travis has shared his knowledge throughout the years as a consultant and teacher.

"On behalf of the entire GCC family, we are so pleased to have Ralph on board," states Lee S. Babitt, president/CEO of Gibraltar Construction Corporation. "His knowledge, reputation and expertise are unmatched in the industry. We look forward to sharing his skill set with our clients."

Travis is a graduate of Rowan University a Bachelor of science degree in biology. He studied at JF Kennedy Hospital's School of Nuclear Medicine and received a masters of science in management from The University of Pennsylvania.

He enjoys motorcycles, skiing, competitive swimming, camping/kayaking and rebuilding cars. He is a long-time resident of South Jersey and currently resides in Wenonah with his wife and two children.
